Testimonial: Alex Meldrum ASM Development

I approached Alex Meldrum to redesign my website as the website I had was of a Template design from the company I had originally bought my domain names through. It was functional and displayed the correct info but the design was generic and did not complement my business.

I asked Alex to have a look at my original website and take into consideration the type of business that I do and my other company branding. Alex had originally sent me 3 designs to which I chose one and he added extra info and my pictures to finalise it.

I have to say that through Alex's professionalism and experience he has been a pleasure to have working on the first impression people have of me and my business when on the internet.

Alex has kept me informed through the complete process and through his presentation of what he does has opened my eyes to the requirements of what a good web site should look like and do.

Alex is also going to look after any changes I require which comes down to before and after photos or any changes to the business and make sure the site complies.

So thanks again Alex and I would have no hesitation in recommending you to anyone else who requires your type of service.

Many thanks,

David Kerr
